

ADAM WRIGHT HOMESITE

ADAM WRIGHT HOMESITE

This is how Main Street appeared around 1908 when looking north from the Cotton Factory bridge. It was spring and the days of the horse and carriage. Several weeks of mud had to be endured as regularly as the proverbial spring fever. The house on the right was on the site of the Adam Wright house. In the more recent years it had been successively occupied by Peleg Wright and his son Daniel Dean Wright.