

DENNETT INDIAN COLLECTION

The Indian stone collection pictured above is the property of Fred W. Dennett of Plympton. They were all found on his farm on the Ring Road. Plympton's only Indian tradition is built around this section of the town. Many fine specimens have been found here and many others no doubt will be when a more thorough search is to be made. A fine spring of water, a clear trout brook, and low nearby hills make the spot ideal for the Plympton red men.