

PICKING BROWN SWAMP

This is another cranberry picking scene taken by Edgar C. Rogers, this time on the Brown Swamp bog of the Randall Bros. The picture was taken soon after 1900. The lady in the fore ground holding the dog is Mrs. George W. Randall. The young boys in back of the dog are Charles Cooper and William Randall. The lady at the left and to the right of the girl standing and facing the camera, is Lizzie Bater from Halifax. The round shouldered man at her right and facing the camera is Charles O. Wright.
