RANDALL'S SHOE SHOP 1930

RANDALL'S SHOE SHOP 1930

The scene above shows the same Randall's shoe shop pictured elsewhere in this book after it had been transformed into a village store. The original shop had quite a section added to it in the later years during which it served as a shoe factory, The part added to the north end of the original building is easily seen by a casual look at the picture. An unusual extension of the roof of the new part tells the story. As a shoe shop the building remained idle for about fifteen years, It was remodeled into a grocery store around 1910.
